Membership dues are $150.00 per review or journal (not school) per academic year. Membership in the National Conference of Law Reviews offers your law review or journal the prestige and opportunity to interact with other law reviews and journals in the United States and build valuable networking relationships. To apply for membership in the NCLR for the 2014-2015 school year, please fill out this form and submit it with payment to ensure your payment is applied to your review or journal's membership.

The majority of your annual membership dues is given to the Host Review to cover costs of organizing the Annual Conference. The remaining portion of your annual membership dues covers NCLR's operational costs. Annual membership dues are separate from the conference registration fee, which goes directly and entirely to the Host Review. Paying your annual membership dues is a prerequisite to attending the Annual Conference and helps ensure that each Annual Conference is a success. If you have any questions regarding NCLR membership, please send them to Kirk Villalón, NCLR President, at nclrlaw@gmail.com.
